

The Story of Easter

Jesus was a good man. He met lots of people, and made ill people well again. He showed people how to love each other and told them about God.

Some people didn't like him so they arranged to have him arrested.

They came for him one night after he had dinner with his friends.

The people in charge decided he would have to die and they made him carry his cross to the place where people were crucified.

Jesus died, although he had done nothing wrong.

His friends were very sad. They came and fetched his body and put it in a cave tomb with a big stone to shut it.

On the third day after, when they came they found that the stone was moved and the cave was empty. They saw Jesus. He was alive again.

People who follow Jesus believe that he showed us that even death is not the end and that we will live again.

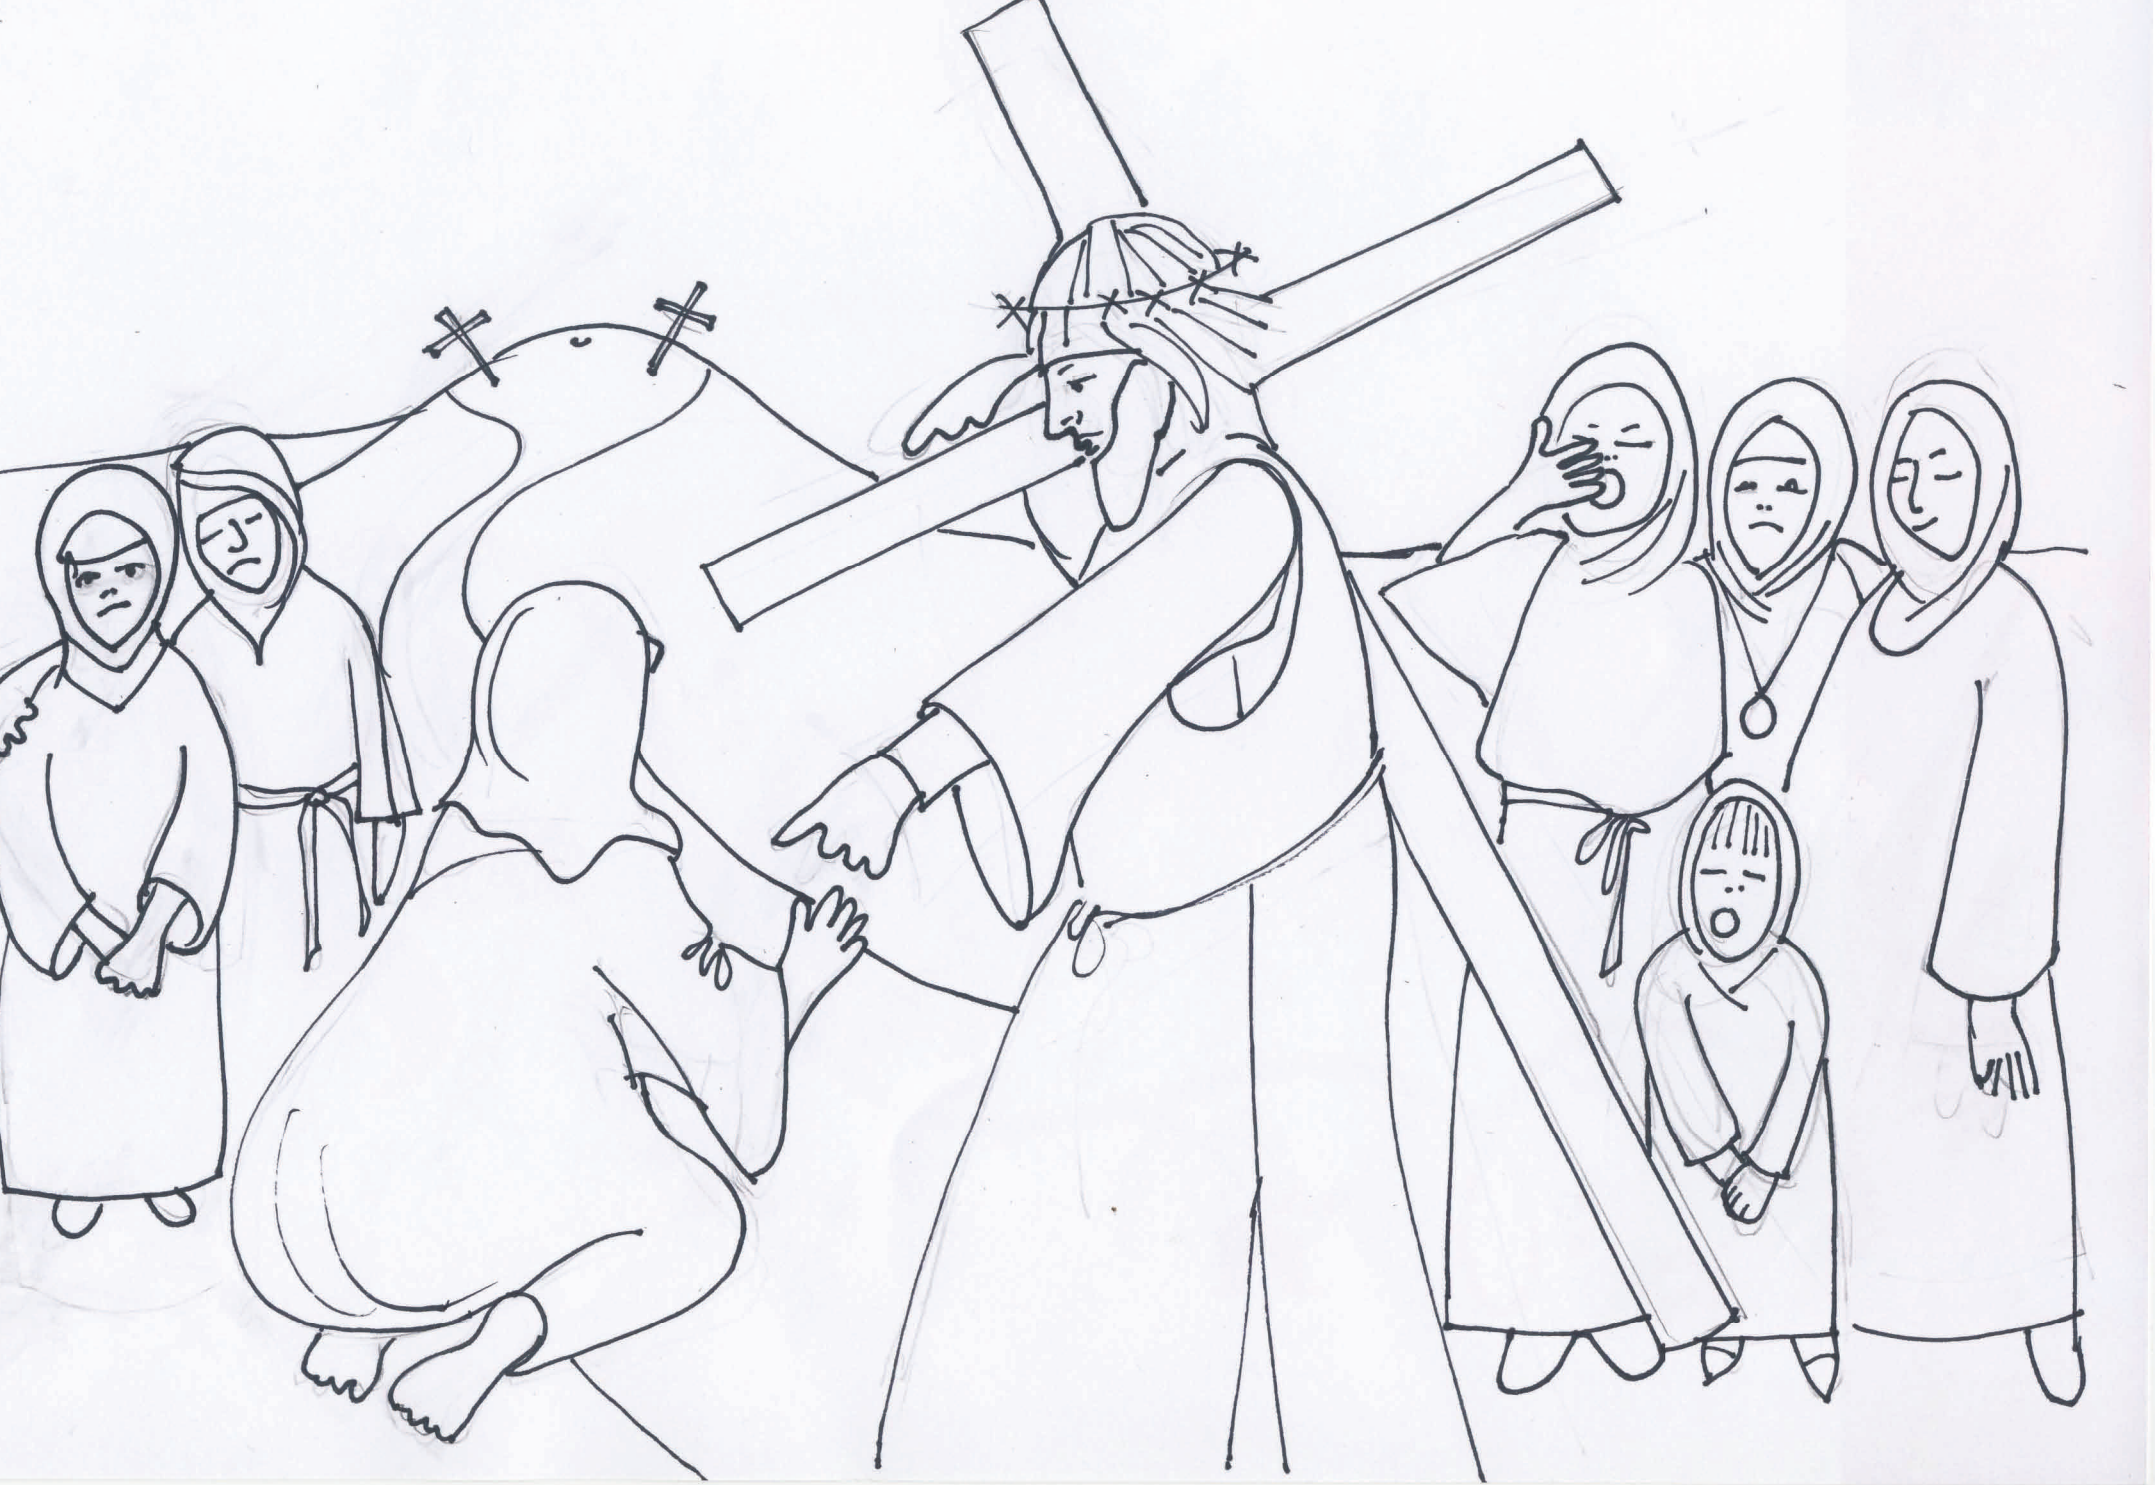

Jesus shared his last meal with his friends

©Mary Rudkin

Jesus was betrayed by one of his friends and arrested

Jesus had to carry his cross to the hill of crucifixion

Jesus died on a cross

His friends took his body away and placed it in a burial cave

On the third day after his death his friends found the cave was empty. Jesus was alive! ©M. Rudkin

Booklet produced by Middlebrook Chaplaincy
In conjunction with Churches Together in Horwich & Rivington
And The Emerson Group

Artwork: © Mary Rudkin